

Gaining Confidence to Teach

By Debbie Strayer

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introductions

Introduction by Debbie Strayer

A Mother's Testimonial

Chapter One

Introduction: Who Needs Confidence to Teach?

We All Do!

Gaining Confidence to Teach

Once You Feel Called

Identifying Your Sources of Support

Making the Most of the Time

Chapter Two

Introduction: Walking in Our Call to Homeschool

The Importance of Timing

Why Do You Homeschool?

Plowing the Straight Line

Learning the Lingo

Fanning the Sparks

Making Room for the Great Gift of Creativity

Can Godly Learning Be Fun?

Chapter Three

Introduction: The Importance of Truthfulness

Homeschooling Intensity Brings Reality to the Surface

Pursuing Peace in Our Daily Lives

When the Faithful Feel Forgotten

Being Carried By Grace

Chapter Four

Introduction: Weathering the Seasons of Life

What to Do about Change
Diversity: God Ordained
Seasons Change
Confidence for Change
One of the Lessons of Christmas
The Spirit of the Season

Chapter Five

Introduction: Finishing the Race
Running with Endurance
Encouragement for Homeschoolers
Hoping to See the Harvest
Not Growing Weary
Finding the Strength to Keep Going
Grace for the Winter Months
Finding Rest for Your Soul

Chapter Six

Introduction: Navigating the Sometimes Rough Waters of Family and Friends
Families Matter
Avoiding Holiday Traps
Park Day Possibilities
The Law of Love
Encouragement for Dads

Chapter Seven

Introduction: Evaluating Your Homeschool
Using the Right Measures
Taking Stock, Not Measuring Up
God's View into Our Lives
Standing Firm in the Face of Fear

Chapter Eight

Remembering Who We Are
Keeping Test Results in Perspective
The Heart of Homeschooling