

Name _____

ADJECTIVES

Date _____

Most adjectives describe. Often, descriptive adjectives tell what kind.

Examples: race car

What kind of car? race

A, an, and the* are called limiting adjectives.

Some limiting adjectives tell how many.

two shoes How many? two many men How many? many NUMBERS can be limiting adjectives that tell how many.

Several, some, many, few, no, and any can be limiting adjectives that tell how many.

Directions: Read each sentence. First, circle a, an, or the. Next, look for words that tell how many. Then, circle any describing adjectives.

1. A strong wind blew the palm trees.
2. The short man sat on an old park bench.
3. Three big goats crossed a troll bridge.
4. Several tall candles are on the birthday cake.
5. Four orange striped balls bounced by me.
6. Many red roses are growing in a flower garden.