MORE ABOUT YOUR SENSES

My eyes and ears can tell a lot.
But, I can learn so much,
If I use my other senses, too—
Smell and taste and touch.

To smell, I have to use my nose.
To taste, I use my tongue.
Touch is feeling with my skin.
God gave me every one.

So, thank you, God, for senses.
They really help me out.
I see, hear, touch, taste, and smell
What my world's all about.

Objectives

1. I can tell about the sense of smell.
2. I can tell about the sense of taste.
3. I can tell about the sense of touch.
4. I can tell how my senses can work together.

I. SMELL AND TASTE

Smell and taste are important senses.
They tell you a lot of things.
Smell and taste work together.

lemon + sugar = lemonade

What do you smell?

Put an X on each thing you might smell outdoors.

I USE MY NOSE TO SMELL

In the morning
I smell breakfast.
I can smell things outside, too.
I can smell things at school.
Some smells are nice.
Some smells are not so nice.
