

Home School, High School, and Beyond

A Guide for Teens and Their Parents

By Beverly Adams-Gordon

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface to Parents
Table of Contents
Welcome to High School

Section 1: Establishing Goals and Setting Priorities

Goals Give You Purpose
Goals Begins With God
How to Make Your Goals Achievable

Section 2: Create Your Tentative High School Plan

High School Has Its Own Terminology
Creating Your School Calendar
What Do You Need To Study In High School?

Section 3: Working out This Year's Plan

Mapping out Course Schedules
Selecting the Actual Courses
Home Schooling Can Be Formatted In Many Ways

- Jordan's Traditional Approach
- Jerry Uses a Modified Approach
- Julia's Family Uses Unit Study
- Jennifer Plans Her Own Courses

Section 4: Planning Individual Courses

Custom-made Course Plans
Brainstorming Learning Resources
Selecting Specific Assignments
Establishing Evaluation Criteria

Section 5: Completing Assignments & Projects

Estimating Time Needed for Assignments
Get More Out of What You Read
Planning Larger Reports and Projects

Section 6: Making Weekly and Daily Schedules

Managing Your Time
Setting Goals for the Week
Your Study Time

Section 7: Keep Records of Your Accomplishments

Creating your High School Portfolio
Creating a High School Transcript
Creating Records for Previous Courses
Do You Really Need a High School Diploma?

Section 8: Making Plans for After High School

Direct Entering into the Job-Market is One Option
Apprenticeships Offer Hands-On Opportunities
Vocational Educational Opportunities After High School
Opportunities in the Military
College Bound Students Have Options Too
Things to Consider in Choosing a College

Section 9: Paying For Post High School Education

Scholarships Can Make College a Reality
Financial Aid Available
Begin Your Own Savings As Soon As Possible
Ways You Can Reduce the Cost of College

Afterword and Appendices

Topics and Course Ideas for High School Students
Testing Information and Summaries

- Achievement Tests
- Career Interest Surveys
- College Tests

Suggested Reading Material
College Planning Resources

- Information on Home Schooling & Curriculum Planning
- Money Making and Management
- Study Skills & Learning Styles
- Choosing A Career

The Home School High School & Beyond CD-ROM

- State & Provincial Departments of Instruction

Guide to Forms Described in This Text
Forms needed to complete this Course
Index
Resource Guide/Pricelist