ABOUT THE AUTHORS:

Craig Froman is assistant editor at New Leaf Publishing Group and author of Passport to the World and Children's Atlas of God's World. He has a bachelor of arts in business administration and a master's degree in education. He is the proud father of Andrew Froman, whom he helped homeschool through high school. Craig is pictured here standing by the Monument to the Discoveries in Lisbon, Portugal.

Andrew Froman studied at John Brown University in Arkansas, with an emphasis in psychology and history. As a student, he traveled with a study abroad program through Switzerland, Germany, Austria, and France. He is the proud son of Craig Froman, and they enjoy walking and talking about life whenever they get together. Andrew is pictured here standing by Neuschwanstein Castle in Germany with some friends from his study abroad trip.

We want to say THANK YOU to family and friends from around the world who helped give us wonderful ideas to share with all of you!

Using This Teacher Guide

Features: The suggested weekly schedule enclosed has easy-to-manage lessons that guide the reading, worksheets, and all assessments. The pages of this guide are perforated and three-hole punched so materials are easy to tear out, hand out, grade, and store. Teachers are encouraged to adjust the schedule and materials as needed in order to best work within their unique educational program.

Lesson Scheduling: Students are instructed to read the pages in their book and then complete the corresponding section provided by the teacher. Assessments that may include worksheets, activities, quizzes, and tests are given at regular intervals with space to record each grade. Space is provided on the weekly schedule for assignment dates, and flexibility in scheduling is encouraged. Teachers may adapt the scheduled days per each unique student situation. As the student completes each assignment, this can be marked with an “X” in the box.

Approximately 30 minutes per lesson, five days a week, for 36 weeks

Answer keys for puzzles, quest collectors, and quizzes included

Worksheets are included for each lesson

Quizzes are included for each quest

Designed for grades 1–2 in a one-year course

Course Description: My Story, My Country, My World is a lower elementary social studies course. The subject of social studies for this age is diverse, and includes introductions to history, politics, economics, sociology, and geography, with the ultimate aim of teaching a comprehensive understanding of God’s world and the cultures of each country. My Story is an adventure-based curriculum that encourages families to explore the world together through four quests, and to understand it better from God’s perspective. It is designed with elements that make weekly learning fun and interactive. This book will guide children from their homes out into the world, where they will meet people from various nations so they can better understand them. Ultimately, My Story guides children to better appreciate their own world and their own lives as they learn of God’s world and His great love.

Course Objectives: Students completing this course will

- ✓ Seek to know more of God’s wondrous love as they learn about His world
- ✓ Identify types of governments and country flags
- ✓ Express thanks to God each day for all that He gives to us
- ✓ Discover Italian and Chinese words to help begin laying a foundation for life-long language learning
- ✓ Reveal their own world in a journal they maintain while going through each week
- ✓ Understand a map of the world as they follow their journey across the globe
- ✓ Explore God’s creation and what He teaches us every day through His world

Charting Your Course:

The following are the teaching elements you will find in this social studies curriculum. Teachers are free to adapt the studies to the abilities and skills of each student.

Narration is a form of instruction where students talk or tell what they've learned in a lesson or respond to information they've learned and apply it to life situations. Talk time is often started with a question, either about the lesson or about a student's life experience.

For those learning to write, this is an opportunity to learn to write and spell words mentioned in the lesson.

Some activities are included in the lesson and can be done that day, while others may suggest a trip to the library or making something for a snack, etc., at a later time. The teacher can use his or her discretion about whether an activity might or might not be done.

In level two, each lesson includes a word or phrase from a different language (Italian in the first semester and Chinese in the second semester). Children are at a prime developmental level for language learning at this age. Find pronunciation helps online, including translate.google.com.

Whether forward or down, let kids have fun finding the words hidden in the letters. You might have them say the letters as they circle them to help with remembering them. And if they can't find one, that's okay. The answers are in the back!

When we have a thankful heart, we live in a deeper place of God's joy. This daily time of giving thanks is meant for the students to consider all the wonderful people and things around them they can be thankful for. Get some posterboard and colored cardstock and create a thankful tree, adding what you are thankful for each day on a leaf cut from colored card stock. At the end of the year, it will be filled with leaves! See sample in the back on page 410!

Artistic expression at any age creates an emotional connection to the learning experience. In level two, the focus is on country flags and what the symbols and colors mean. Students will study a country flag each week and then color the flag provided. Flag information is from the www.cia.gov site.

This once-a-week lesson follows Flag time! The type of government that is represented by the country's flag is briefly discussed. Also, students are encouraged to take a moment for their 1 Timothy 2:1-2 prayer for leaders of that particular country.

Throughout the Bible, there are passages that show God's wondrous creation of animals of every kind and what lessons they might teach us about Him and ourselves to help us live more wisely. His world is amazing!

word collector

At the end of each week, students are instructed to find the yellow highlighted words for their Word Collector (which you can create from anything as simple as a bag or shoebox). They will go back over the week's pages and write those words on 3 x 5 cards. Their teachers will help them either read the words or spell them if their teacher says them out loud. This is a vital part of their course reviews.

My Story journal

At the end of each lesson is a My Story Journal where students will help write their own life and history for the year. Weekly prompts give them information to log in their journals, including things from their birthdates to favorite foods and more. Feel free to add things not asked by the initial prompts.

Review time!

Every Friday becomes a week in review, looking back over what was learned with a focus on the Quest Word Collector words.

Quest in Review Time!

On the last Friday of every 9-week quest, the week in review becomes a quest in review time! These reviews and answers are in the back of the book.

Language Time Review!

At the end of each semester, students are prompted to gather up all their language words (semester one is Italian and semester two is Chinese). A teacher can help quiz them on the meaning of their new-found words! 3 x 5 cards work great!

Quest Collector Card!

Each Quest Collector Card has clue questions to keep students alert to what they're learning. It may be looking for the name of the smallest country in the world or the name of the longest river in Europe. The answers and where they are located are found in the back of the book. Make sure to read your Quest Collector Card before the quest begins. Tear out each card as you begin a new quest!

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to four new quests that will take you around God's world! Your first adventure will be starting soon.

This book adventure is going to help you learn about something called social studies. Social studies is about people and places around the world, including your own neighbors and your own family. We will talk about what people eat, where the food comes from, how governments are set up, the symbols on flags of different countries and what they mean, how God teaches us to love the people of the world like He does, and much more.

Before we get started on the first quest, let's talk really quickly about maps. What is a map? Maps are pictures that mirror the real world in small ways. They are drawings of what the world looks like from above so you can find different places you want to go. You might make a map of your house (often called a blueprint), every room like a square or rectangle, with doorways showing how to go from room to room. Then maybe you could make a map of your neighborhood, then your city, then your state, then your country, and finally the world, showing mountains, rivers, lakes, and more. A map of the world is like the map of your house, with each country like a room, only showing much, much more! Earth is fairly round, like a ball, but maps of the earth are usually made flat unless you have a globe!

Long ago, when you needed to find a city or a building in that city, you might use a compass to guide you. The compass was first invented around A.D.

1100 in China. It is designed to point north so one can figure all other directions, south, east, and west. An astrolabe is an amazing device first invented by the ancient Greek people. It showed how the sun, moon, planets, and stars moved across the sky, helping you find out where you were. Now we have digital maps in our cars or on our phones that can tell us where we are and where we need to go.

Ready for your first quest? By now you might know that a quest is a journey, an adventure where you can discover or uncover things. You might learn some things about yourself, some words from other languages people speak around the world, and about ways God teaches us to be wise by looking at His created world around us.

Throughout this book, you will be writing your own story. You will write it or have your teacher write it with you every Friday. Also on Fridays, you'll gather the yellow highlighted words for your Word Collector. You can write these on any pieces of paper you like, but 3 x 5 cards can make a really easy way to write them out to store them in a box or bag for review times. Write the words on the cards so you know how to spell them for your Review Time.

Ready? Here we go!

Let's Get Ready to See the World... by Canoe!

LESSON

Time to get ready because your year of adventure is beginning!

Grab your Quest 1 map so you can follow your journey each step of the way. In this first week we'll be riding in a canoe, so watch for canoes each day, and make sure you strap on your life jacket. And as they say in Brazil before an adventure, Boa viagem, which means good trip!

Our canoe might be similar to the ones used by the Polynesians when they first found Hawaii! Hawaii is a group of islands that became the 50th state of the United States in 1959. Have you ever met a person who lived outside of your state or country? Almost immediately you might see small differences in how they talk, act, and think.

Do you want to know when a lot of those differences began? Well, let's look at something in the Bible that happened a very long time ago at the Tower of Babel. You can read the whole account in the book of Genesis 11:1–9. Our ancestors were originally all from areas called the Middle East and Northern Africa, which you can see on your map. Remember, north on a map is up, south is down, east is right, and west is left. At that time, people were all united as one culture. One day, however, the people grew proud and decided to build a tower to heaven, so they could be like God. This upset God, and He stopped them from building the tower by making them speak different languages.

The people could no longer talk to each other then, only to those who spoke their language. These folks could be thought of in some ways as the first nations. The people groups who spoke the same language all went together to another place of the world to live in a village or city.

It's partly because of this that our modern world is here and why we don't all think and act alike. Your own town and country are some of the many that have come together since the Tower of Babel, so understanding the beauty and uniqueness of people around the world is important to better appreciate God's whole world.

Now, the earth has big pieces of land or areas we call continents. There are seven continents, which are North America, South America, Europe, Asia, Africa, Oceania, and Antarctica. We'll be visiting all but Antarctica. On the six other continents are found all the countries of the world. Some countries are very big and some are very small. What makes a country is being under a single government or leadership. The smallest country is called Vatican City and is actually inside the city of Rome. The biggest country in the world is Russia, which covers 11 different time zones and takes eight days to travel across by train!

Exercise 1 Day 1

Let's go on over to Hawaii to better understand people in the Pacific islands. Come on! Hawaii is a group of over a hundred volcanic islands in the Pacific Ocean. There have been people on these islands for over a thousand years. In the early days of Hawaiian government, they had chiefs that ruled over the four main islands. At that time, they settled the land but no one owned it.

Activity time!

The English language alphabet has 26 letters. The Hawaiian language alphabet has only 12 letters! There are five vowels, just like English (a, e, i, o, u), and there are seven consonants (h, k, l, m, n, p, w).

Hawaiian words:

Keiki — child

Haumana — student

Kumu — teacher

Aloha — hello, goodbye, love, or peace

Talk time!

What do you think about saying words in another language like “Keiki” that mean the same as certain words in English but sound totally different?

It's very exciting to know that God created everything there is in the world. The Bible tells us how it all happened:

Then God said, "Let the waters abound with an abundance of living creatures, and let birds fly above the earth across the face of the firmament of the heavens." So God created great sea creatures and every living thing that moves, with which the waters abounded, according to their kind, and every winged bird according to its kind. And God saw that it was good. And God blessed them, saying, "Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let birds multiply on the earth." So the evening and the morning were the fifth day. Then God said, "Let the earth bring forth the living creature according to its kind: cattle and creeping thing and beast of the earth, each according to its kind"; and it was so. And God made the beast of the earth according to its kind, cattle according to its kind, and everything that creeps on the earth according to its kind. And God saw that it was good. (Genesis 1:20–25)

Exercise 3 Day 3

Flag time!

What are flags? Flags are symbols of a country, similar to the logo and colors of a baseball or soccer team. Each pattern and color stand for something. Every country in the world has a flag. You'll be seeing a lot of flags on your quests!

Government Time!

Baseball or board games without rules would be a mess. And living together with people would be a mess if not for God's laws that help us live right and help us live in peace. In this way, families are supposed to be safe places for us to grow in. Some families live on farms or in cities that are a part of a country. Each country has a government that sets up the rules or laws. A government is made up of people who rule other people and run the country. They oversee laws and taxes to fund the government services, including provision for the poor, the military protection, and the court system. Something important to remember when talking about countries and leaders of countries is the following verses from the Bible:

“Therefore I exhort first of all that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men, for kings and all who are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and reverence.” (1 Timothy 2:1-2)

Types of governments There are many kinds of governments, but through these four quests, we will focus on the following five:

Oligarchy	Rule by the few who are not elected by the people and who can make laws on their own.
Theocracy	Rule by a person or a group of people said to represent God.
Absolute Monarchy	Rule by a king or queen who can generally make laws on their own.
Constitutional Monarchy	Rule by a king or queen with limited powers.
Republic (Representative Democracy)	People elect leaders (presidents, parliaments, and others) to make the laws.

Zippering to Egypt on an AutoGyro

#19

It's time for another quest! Another journey for us, and this time it's by AutoGyro! Look for them on the next pages of this week's lesson. They look like a tiny helicopter and work like one, too. Let's go, and as they say in Uzbekistan, "Oq yo'l," which means happy journey to you!

The amazing pyramids of Egypt, probably seen by Moses and Jesus' family, still stand today. The largest one, the great Pyramid at Giza, took around 20 years to build and about 400,000 people to build it. There on the water you can see feluccas, which are boats that move by sails and oars along the Nile River, and they have been around in a similar form since the time of the pyramids, too. Many tourists love to travel on these since they are very peaceful.

The world map from Leinhardt Holle's 1482 edition

About 1,800 years ago, a Greek geographer named Ptolemy who lived in Egypt drew a map of what he knew of the earth. It showed much of his world, but he did not even know about North America, South America, or Australia. He did have parts of Europe, Asia, and Africa on his map, which was amazing at the time!

Shore of Alexandria, Egypt

It's time to tell you about the lost library. There was a very large library in Alexandria, Egypt, that disappeared around A.D. 642. This was considered the greatest library of the time, with lots of rare books, as well as thousands of others that were about inventions, philosophy, science, and more. Alexandria is Egypt's second-largest city and major harbor. It was the center of the spice trade when gold and silver were exchanged for spices. People liked tasty food then, too!

Want to eat like an Egyptian? It's not hard! The modern meals there are mainly vegetarian, with legumes like beans, peas, and lentils, and also grains and vegetables. Meat has often been too expensive to add to most meals, though fresh fish and other seafood is loved by many in the seaside cities. Alexandria is on the Mediterranean Sea, so if there is a special feast or celebration, fish is often the food to serve!

Giza, Egypt

Name _____

Have you ever seen hieroglyphics? These were pictures used as words and were some of the first writing. It was the language Egypt used a long time ago, and there was a time when no one remembered how to read it. Then something called the Rosetta Stone (right) was found in 1799 near the Nile River. These word pictures represented words and ideas, and the stone had three languages, so they could figure it out.

The languages were Greek, hieroglyphics, and one other ancient Egyptian language. Currently, Africa has anywhere from 1,200 to 3,000 possible languages that are spoken, more than any other continent in the world.

What things did you find most interesting about the day in Egypt?

Activity time!

If you want to cook fish in Egypt, it's good to have cumin handy! It is put on calamari, octopus, and fried prawns, all spiced with salt, too. To make a special fish dip, mix some cumin (1 or 2 tablespoons), 5 to 6 diced tomatoes, salt, olive oil, and fresh garlic. And when you need a cheerful Egyptian greeting at meal time, say, “Bel ‘hana we el’shefa,” which means “Wishing you eat this meal in joy (hana) and may it bring healing (shefa) for you.”

Exercise 2 Day 92

Long ago and also today, sheep are found near their shepherds. Why is this? Well, because sheep have no natural way to protect themselves from large, hungry animals that might hurt them. The shepherd protects them, and in some ways, this helps us see God's protection over us. Jesus called Himself the Good Shepherd, and this is a talk He had with Peter, one of His disciples:

So when they had eaten breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, "Simon, son of Jonah, do you love Me more than these?"

He said to Him, "Yes, Lord; You know that I love You."

He said to him, "Feed My lambs" (John 21:15).

The Suez Canal was opened in 1869, and it's one of the longest artificial or "man-made" waterways in the world. Before it opened, ships from Europe had to sail all the way around Africa to reach India and east Asia. Now they can pay a toll and travel the much shorter distance, saving time and money to transport things, and the tolls help bring in income for Egypt. Have you ever seen a picture of the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor? Did you know that a similar statue was planned for the entrance of the Suez Canal? It was based on an ancient statue called the Colossus of Rhodes, which was over 100 feet high!
